DEMOCRATIC MAY BE SHY

William E. Bishop, in the circuit court as successor to Judge Whittier, whose term expires next May. This is the only judgeship that becomes vacant soon. The president appoints men to these positions, but heretofore they have been made only on the recommendation of the Bar Association or the Conference. There is a possibility, however, that the Democratic administration may alter this rule.

At any rate, a careful survey of the situation develops the belief that the democratic political patronage, as time goes on, will dwindle materially. Of the fourteen state appointments filed by appointment by the Governor, only three will require reappointments or new appointments within the next year, and only two others are held by the members of the government.

Should it so fall that a democratic executive will take hold of the reins on the expiration of the new president, he will be able to install only five new territorial officials within the next year, unless the ones still holding office do an act of courtesy to the incoming government under their own authority.

And even in filling the vacancies as they occur the democratic executive may encounter difficulties if the territorial service causes to increase its power, because the law, which states that the appointments shall be made on the approval of that body. And the Senate for the next two years will consist of nine Republicans and six Democrats.

Should a new territorial executive determine to make a "bold move," he will probably meet still further obstacles. One official already has declared he will not resign as an act of courtesy to the incoming Government, if he comes in. Says this official: "I didn't take this job as a matter of sentiment, I took it for the salary there is in it. I'm entitled to that salary up to the very last day of my term, and I'm going to see that I get it!" The remark is brief but to the point and hardly susceptible of misinterpretation.

Below is given a list of the more important public offices filled by appointment by the Governor, with the approval of the Senate, and giving the date of expiration of the present incumbents' term:

Attorney general, Feb. 1, 1914.
Treasurer, June 30, 1913.

BIG SCOTTISH SCHEME OF POULTRY KEEPING

The Scottish Board of Agriculture, which was created recently by the Government, has lost no time in formulating a scheme for the benefit of the rural population. The breeding of cattle, horses, and sheep is already, of course, a feature of Scottish agriculture, and the officials of the new board, though fully aware of the importance of this, are evidently first concentrating their attention on that smaller stock from which the cottager or small holder partly or wholly makes his living. The board's scheme for the encouragement and development of poultry keeping is on a large scale. It provides for the establishment of poultry stations throughout the country, from which the distribution of eggs of pure breeds of fowls may be made, and also for a liberal extension of poultry instruction, in which the three agricultural colleges at Glasgow, Edinburgh, and Aberdeen are being asked to cooperate. A considerable number of additional instructors and instructors will have to be appointed, and the board is at present in negotiation with the agricultural colleges. The candidates, it is laid down, must be thoroughly practical. It is the board's serious intention to place the poultry industry on sound lines and thus to contribute to the solution of the problem of rural depopulation.

REV. W. H. GULICK HERE FROM SPAIN; TELLS OF MISSION WORK

After journeying from Madrid through the United States to pay a visit to friends and relatives in the city of his boyhood days, Rev. William H. Gulick, who, for the past forty years, has been engaged in missionary work in Spain, arrived in Honolulu this morning on the Sierra to spend the winter with his brother, Rev. O. H. Gulick.

Forty years ago Rev. Gulick was commissioned by the American Board of Missions to go to Spain as a missionary, and it is in that country that his field has been ever since. He arrived in Spain shortly after Queen Isabella had been expelled from the throne by the revolution that had just then come to an end, and was among the first evangelistic messengers to be established there. Under the new regime there was perfect freedom of speech, press, and conscience religion. The country was ruled over by a triumvirate which was seeking a monarch from among the several royal families of Europe.

The crown of Spain was at last offered to a German prince, but through the influence of the German emperor, he refused it. It was finally accepted by Don Alfonso, a near relation of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. After a short reign, Alfonso resigned on account of the non-support of his colleagues in the cabinet, and was followed by the establishment of a republic, which, in turn, lasted but a short time on account of numerous dissensions. The throne was then taken by Alfonso XII, the young son of Queen Isabella, who was at that time living in exile in Paris.

Under the reign of Don Alfonso, the country had enjoyed absolute freedom of religion," said Rev. Gulick, in speaking of the various difficulties that the missionaries under-

FOOTBALL CONTESTS ON MANY GRIDIRONS

Game Draws Two Fans Across Continent.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Johnny Poe has nothing on H.H. Corbett in mileage travelling to see Johnny Harvard and the Tigers "go to it" at the stadium today. H.H. came all the way from Oregon and Johnny from Nevada. A big football game is a great magnet.

Rev. Gulick will remain in Honolulu during the winter, visiting friends and renewing old acquaintances. He will visit the United States in the spring and then return at once to his work in Spain.

In crossroads and by Gillette's ability to turn the narrow ends beyond efficient interference.

A great crowd and the quiet and cheered mightily. Whenever the home goal was threatened, the Wisconsin rooters rose and sang their "Song to Alma Mater," and except for one exception the team instantly responded.

The game was rough to a degree and the penalties were numerous.

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 2.—Playing a brilliant game of straight football, Purdue university triumphed over Northwestern today, 21 to 7.

Purdue's scores were the result of three touchdowns, one field goal, and a picket. Northwestern, won over for the first in the opening period after Oliphant had advanced the ball to Northwestern's 10-yard line. Purdue's second touchdown was made in the third period, while Phelps ran 60 yards against a broken field and planted the ball between Northwestern's goal posts. Oliphant kicked the three goals.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 2.—A blockade kick and a forward pass enabled the Colorado School of Mines to defeat the Colorado Agricultural college here today by the score of 14 to 6. Both teams put up good offensive game but their defenses were weak, especially at the tackles. With either side got the ball they generally went 30 yards or more before they were stopped.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—Minnesota's football team today fought its way another step toward the "Big Nine" conference championship, defeating the Illinois eleven by a score of 13 to 0. Touchdowns by McAlpin in the first and second quarters, respectively, and "Pinky" Hayward, one kicked in the second quarter told the story of Minnesota's victory.

Illinois came back strong in the second half, but Minnesota graciously played on the defensive, while both teams were forced to kick frequently.

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—A game that was anybody's from the kickoff to the final whistle, the Russell Indian eleven defeated the University of Denver here today by the score of 12 to 10. The Indians made their first touchdown by McAlpin in the first and second quarters, respectively, and "Pinky" Hayward, one kicked in the second quarter.

They second touchdown came after two forward passes, netting 20 yards each, and a third, which bounced out of Artie Jones' hands but landed in Roquers, and been executed with bewildering quickness. They missed both goals.

LOGAN, Utah, Nov. 2.—The University of Wyoming football team went down to defeat before the Agricultural College of Utah here today by a score of 13 to 0. The Utah men played straight football and made big gains through Wyoming's line on almost every play. Eight touchdowns were made by Utah by straight line bucking. The Wyoming men apparently were in poor condition and played a rather bad game.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 2.—Brown won a slow and poorly played game from the University of Vermont, 12 to 7.
